IT Services to Support Growth

Big IT for Smaller Companies

IT services support business growth.

No matter how big or small your company, if you wish to move to the next level of competitiveness in your market, you need to engage the power of information technology to your company's advantage. Ananke's Small Business Services gives you the the IT capability of a large enterprise without the expensive overhead.

We take the time to understand your business and your plans for the future, so we can provide a technology plan that takes you there. Our analysts will recommend and implement the agreed upon solution that will help you achieve your company goals. We will then help you keep the technologies running efficiently.

Ananke's Small Business Services provides top to bottom IT expertise to support and enhance your operations, without the cost of establishing an in-house IT staff.

Avoid Interruptions in Workflow

Keep your business healthy.

In today's competitive business environment, network uptime is essential. No matter what business you're in, downtime costs you money and diverts capital from your growth. That's why Ananke always has IT specialists available when you need them.

We can help you with a break/fix emergency, though you will have less downtime overall if you call us to analyze your current system and suggest ways to head off disaster before it occurs.

Make Break/Fix a Thing of the Past

Planning eliminates crises.

Ananke evaluates your current technology as it relates to your company's needs and review your infrastructure to present a proposal with solutions to get all the pieces of your organization working together. We then deliver a schedule for regular maintenance that greatly reduces the need for technical support or break/fix assistance.

Responsiveness Counts

Ananke offers what you need, when you need it.

We provide you with informed choices, so you can determine the services that will have the most effective impact on your operations and the timing for implementation. Perhaps you need to upgrade your network now, but can defer other improvements to designated milestones as your company grows. Conversely, you may find it necessary to put certain technology in place in order to facilitate and support that growth. We can assist you in mapping out the technology necessary for each step of the way, according to your timetable and budget.

Don't get bogged down by projects that are too time-consuming for your in-house staff, or go to the expense and inconvenience of hiring additional permanent employees. We can provide short-term or long-term IT professionals, even on short notice, to solve immediate problems, work on special projects or augment your own IT personnel when tasks warrant extra help.

Our Small Business Services are ideal for organizations requiring a secure, available and redundant IT environment to support their business-critical applications and systems, without the need to hire IT staff year-round

Facilitate Achievement

Efficient IT helps you reach your goals.

Ananke delivers the appropriate IT tools to help your company succeed in accomplishing objectives such as revenue growth, increased profitability, cost reduction, higher sales, better cash flow, and more efficient tracking of costs/billable time. Rely on our expertise to recommend options for performance, price, compatibility with existing systems, products you can trust and security protection.
